18. (1) A State Board or any officer empowered by it in this behalf shall have power to take for the purpose of analysis samples of water from any stream or well or samples of any sewage or trade effluent which is passing from any plant or vessel or from or over any place into any such stream or well in a water pollution prevention area.

Prohibition on use of stream or well for disposal of polluting matter, etc.

(b) no person shall knowingly cause or permit to enter into any stream any other matter which may tend, either directly or in combination with similar matters, to impede the proper flow of the water of the stream in a manner leading or likely to lead to a substantial aggravation of pollution due to other causes or of its consequences.

(2) A person shall not be guilty of an offence under sub-section (1), by reason only of having done or caused to be done any of the following acts, namely:—

(3) Nothing contained in sub-section (1), shall apply to the discharge into a stream or well of any trade or sewage effluent if the State Board is satisfied that it is not reasonably practicable to dispose of the effluent otherwise than by discharging it into that or some other stream or well, and that all reasonably practicable steps have been taken to prevent the effluent being poisonous, noxious or polluting.

Restrictions on new outlets and new dis-

(3) The State Board may make such investigation in respect of the application for consent referred to in sub-section (1) and in making any such investigation shall follow such procedure as may be prescribed.

(4) The State Board may grant its consent referred to in sub-section (1), subject to such conditions as it may impose, being—

(a) in the case of a new or altered outlet, conditions as to the point of discharge into the stream or well or the construction of the outlet, or as to the use of that outlet or any other outlet for trade or sewage effluent from the same land or premises; and

(b) in the case of a new discharge, conditions as to the nature and composition, temperature, volume or rate of discharge of the effluent from the land or premises from which the new discharge is to be made, and any such conditions imposed shall be binding on any person using the outlet, or discharging the effluent from the land or premises aforesaid.

(5) Where, without the consent of the State Board, a new or altered outlet is brought into use for the discharge of trade or sewage effluent into a stream or well or a new discharge of trade or sewage effluent is made, the State Board may serve on the person using the outlet or making the discharge, as the case may be, a notice imposing any such conditions as it might have imposed on an application for its consent in respect to such outlet or discharge.

(6) Every State Board shall maintain a register containing such particulars of the conditions imposed under this section in relation to outlets or in relation to effluent from land or premises in its jurisdiction and as are for the time being in force (other than the conditions to be satisfied before an outlet is brought into use or a new discharge is made) and so much of the register as relates to any outlet, or to any effluent from such land or premises shall be open to inspection at all reasonable hours by any person interested in the outlet, or in the land or premises, as the case may be, or by any person authorised by him in this behalf.

(8) For the purposes of this section—

(a) the expression “new or altered outlet” means any outlet which is wholly or partly constructed on or after the date on which this section comes into force or which (whether so constructed or not) is substantially altered after that date;

(b) the expression “new discharge” means a discharge which is not, as respects the nature and composition, temperature, volume and rate of discharge of the effluent, substantially a continuation of a discharge made within the preceding twelve months (whether by the same or a different outlet), so however that a discharge which is in other respects a continuation of previous discharge made as aforesaid shall not be deemed to be a new discharge by reason of any reduction of the temperature or volume or rate of discharge of the effluent as compared with the previous discharge.

22. (1) A State Board shall not grant its consent to the bringing into use of a new or altered outlet unless the outlet is so constructed as to comply with any conditions imposed by the Board to enable it to exercise its right to take samples of the effluent.

Refusal or withdrawal of consent by State Board.

(2) A State Board may from time to time review any condition imposed under section 21 (other than a condition to be satisfied before an outlet is brought into use or a new discharge is made), and may serve on the person using the outlet or making the discharge, as the case may be, a notice, making any reasonable variation of or revoking any such condition.

(3) Any condition imposed under section 21, shall be subject to any variation made under sub-section (2) and shall continue in force until revoked under that sub-section.

Appeals.

23. (1) Any person aggrieved by an order made under section 21 or section 22 may, within thirty days from the date on which the order is communicated to him, prefer an appeal to such authority (hereinafter referred to as the appellate authority) as the State Government may think fit to constitute:

Provided that the appellate authority may entertain the appeal after the expiry of the said period of thirty days if such authority is satisfied that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause from filing the appeal in time.

(3) The form and manner in which an appeal may be preferred under sub-section (1), the fees payable for such appeal and the procedure to be followed by the appellate authority shall be such as may be prescribed.

(4) On receipt of an appeal preferred under sub-section (1), the appellate authority shall, after giving the appellant and the State Board an opportunity of being heard, dispose of the appeal as expeditiously as possible.

(5) If the appellate authority determines that the withholding of consent, or any condition imposed, or the variation of any condition, as the case may be, was unreasonable, then—

(a) where the appeal is in respect of the withholding of consent, such authority may direct that the consent shall be treated as given either unconditionally or subject to such conditions as appear to it to be reasonable;

(b) where the appeal is in respect of the unreasonableness of any condition imposed, such authority may direct either that the condition shall be treated as annulled or that there shall be substituted for it such condition as appears to it to be reasonable;

(c) where the appeal is in respect of the unreasonableness of any variation of a condition, such authority may direct either that the condition shall be treated as continuing in force unvaried or that it shall be varied in such manner as appears to it to be reasonable.

24. (1) The State Government may, at any time, either of its own motion or on application made to it in this behalf, call for the records of any case where an order has been passed by the State Board under section 21 or section 22 for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the legality or propriety of any such order and may pass such order in relation thereto as it may think fit:

Control
by State Govern-

Provided that the State Government shall not pass an order prejudicial to any person without affording such person a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) The State Government shall not revise any order passed under section 21 or section 22 where an appeal against that order lies to the appellate authority, but has not been preferred and the time within which such appeal may be preferred has not expired, or where an appeal has been preferred and is pending before the appellate authority.

25. (1) Where under this Act any conditions have been imposed on any person for bringing into use any new or altered outlet for the discharge of trade or sewage effluent into a stream or well or for making any new discharge of trade or sewage effluent into a stream or well and such conditions require such person to execute any work in connection with such new or altered outlet or for such new discharge and such work has not been executed within such time as may be specified in this behalf, the State Board may serve on the person concerned a notice requiring him within such time (not being less than thirty days) as may be specified in the notice to execute the work specified therein.

Power of State Board to carry out
works.

(2) If the person concerned fails to execute the work as required in the notice referred to in sub-section (1), then after the expiration of the time specified in the said notice, the State Board may itself execute such work.

(3) All expenses incurred by the State Board for the execution of the aforesaid work, together with interest, at such rate as the State Government may by order fix, from the date when a demand for the expenses is made until it is paid, may be recovered by that Board from the person concerned, as arrears of land revenue.

26. (1) Where it appears to the State Board that any poisonous, noxious or polluting matter is present in any stream or well or has entered into that stream or well due to any accident or other unforeseen act or event, and if the Board is of opinion that it is necessary or expedient to take immediate action, it may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, carry out such operations as it may consider necessary for all or any of the following purposes, that is to say:-

Emer-

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The problem of pollution of rivers and streams has assumed considerable importance and urgency in recent years as a result of the growth of industries and the increasing tendency to urbanization. It is, therefore, essential to ensure that the domestic and industrial effluents are not allowed to be discharged into the water courses without adequate treatment as such discharges would render the water unsuitable as source of drinking water as well as for supporting fish life and for use in irrigation. Pollution of rivers and streams also causes increasing damage to the country's economy.

2. A Committee was set up in 1962 to draw a draft enactment for the prevention of water pollution. The report of the Committee was circulated to the State Governments and was also considered by the Central Council of Local Self-Government in September, 1963. This Council resolved that a single law regarding measures to deal with water pollution control, both at the Centre and at the State levels, may be enacted by the Union Parliament. A draft Bill was accordingly prepared and put up for consideration at a joint session of the Central Council of Local Self-Government and the Fifth Conference of the State Ministers of Town and Country Planning held in 1965. In pursuance of the decision of the joint session, the draft Bill was considered subsequently in detail by a Committee of Ministers of Local Self-Government from the States of Bihar, Madras, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Haryana and West Bengal.

3. Having considered the relevant local provisions existing in the country and recommendations of the aforesaid Committees, the Government came to the conclusion that the existing local provisions are neither adequate nor satisfactory. There is, therefore, an urgent need for introducing a comprehensive legislation which would establish unitary agencies in the Centre and States to provide for the prevention, abatement and control of pollution of rivers and streams, for maintaining or restoring wholesomeness of such water courses and for controlling the existing and new discharges of domestic and industrial wastes.

4. The Bill follows the recommendations of the aforesaid Committees and seeks to—

(i) establish at the Centre as well as in the States water pollution prevention Boards with the necessary complement of technical and administrative staff and to confer on them such powers as are necessary to deal effectively with the problem of water pollution in the country;

(ii) provide penalties for contravention of the provisions of the Act; and

(iii) establish Central and State water testing laboratories to enable the Boards to assess the extent of pollution, lay down standards and establish guilt or default.

5. Legislation in respect of the aforesaid subject matter is related to entry 17 read with entry 6 of List II in the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution and Parliament has no power to make a law in the States (apart from the provisions of articles 249 and 250 of the Constitution) unless the legislatures of two or more States pass a resolution in pursuance of article 252 of the Constitution empowering Parliament to pass the necessary legislation on the subject. The legislatures of the States of Gujarat, Jammu and Kashmir, Kerala, Haryana and Mysore have passed such resolutions. The Bill is intended to give effect to the resolutions passed by the legislatures of the aforesaid States.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

The scheme of this Bill centres round the effective prevention of water pollution in the country. The establishment of a Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board and a Central Water Laboratory has been proposed. Whereas the major work of enforcement of the provisions of the proposed Bill will have to be undertaken by the State Governments, the Central Government will, inter alia, have to carry out the following functions:—

(i) Under clause 3(1), the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board will have to be constituted to carry out functions to be assigned to it under this Act.

(ii) Under clause 4(4), the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board shall exercise the powers of a State Prevention of Water Pollution Board in relation to Union territories, including the carrying out of certain works such as restraining or prohibiting discharge of any harmful, poisonous or toxic wastes into a stream or well or from making insanitary use of the stream or well which functions, during an emergency, are to be carried out in respect of States by the State Prevention of Water Pollution Boards under clause 26.

(iii) Under clause 9(1), the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board may constitute as many Committees consisting wholly of members or wholly of other persons or partly of members and partly of other persons, and for such purpose or purposes as it may think fit.

(iv) Under clause 9 (3), fees and allowances shall have to be paid to the members of a Committee (other than the members of the Board) for attending its meetings and for attending to any other work of the Board as may be prescribed.

(v) Under clause 12(3), the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board may appoint such officers and employees as it considers necessary for the efficient performance of its functions.

(vi) Under clause 27, necessary contributions have to be made to the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board to enable the Board to discharge its functions under this Act.

(vii) Under clause 41(1), the Central Government may establish a Central Water Laboratory to carry out the functions assigned to it under the Act or any rules made thereunder.

2. The actual expenditure which the Central Government would be required to incur for implementing the provisions of this Bill cannot be correctly estimated, but it is likely to be about Rs. 1.52 lakhs recurring per year. No non-recurring expenditure is anticipated at present, except the expenditure on works required to be executed during an emergency under clause 26 in any Union territory in respect of which the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board would be required to exercise the powers and functions of the State Prevention of Water Pollution Board. The expenditure likely to be incurred in this behalf is dependent on very many uncertain factors and it may not be possible to give a correct estimate at this stage; however, such expenditure is not likely to exceed rupees one lakh non-recurring. The above apart, if and when a Central Water Laboratory is established, an additional expenditure, both recurring and non-recurring, an estimate of which is not possible to visualise at this stage, may have to be incurred.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 49 of the Bill empowers the Central Government, after consultation with the Central Prevention of Water Pollution Board and subject to the condition of previous publication, to make rules for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act in respect of matters falling within the purview of this clause.

Likewise, clause 50 empowers the State Government to make rules not inconsistent with the rules made by the Central Government in this behalf.

These matters pertain to procedure, form or administrative detail and as such, the delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

BILL No. XXXII OF 1969

A Bill to continue the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1964 for a further period.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Twentieth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Essential Commodities (Amendment)
Short title. Continuance Act, 1969.

2. The duration of the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1964,
Continuance of Act 47 of 1964. is further extended for the period up to and including the 31st day of December, 1971, and accordingly that Act shall have effect subject to the modification that in section 1 of that Act, in sub-section (3), for the words, figures and letters “the 31st day of December, 1969”, the words, figures and letters “the 31st day of December, 1971” shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1964 inserted section 12A in the Essential Commodities Act, 1955. This section provides that the Central Government may, in the interests of production, supply or distribution of any essential commodity and other relevant considerations, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify an order made under section 3 of the Act to be a special order and when such a notification is issued, the contravention of the said order can be tried summarily. The aforesaid Act of 1964 also inserted section 8A in the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952 which empowers the special judge trying an offence specified under sub-section (1) of section 6 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952 alleged to have been committed by a public servant in relation to the contravention of any special order as notified under section 12A of the Essential Commodities Act, 1955 to try the offence in a summary way.

2. The period of operation of the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1964 was originally up to 31st December, 1966, but was extended up to 31st December, 1969 by the Essential Commodities (Second Amendment) Act, 1967.

3. Having regard to the supply position of a number of essential commodities continuing to be subject to spasmodic shortage, thereby making it necessary for the Central and State Governments to retain the provisions of the Act enabling courts to try summarily contravention of the special orders aforesaid, it has been considered, in consultation with the State Governments and Ministries of the Government of India, that the operation of the provisions of section 12A of the Essential Commodities Act, 1955 and section 8A of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1952 should continue to operate for a further period of two years from 31st December, 1969.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above object.

Under section 2 of the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 1964, a new section 12A has been inserted in the principal Act and under sub-section (1) of that section the Central Government is empowered to specify, by notification in the Official Gazette, any order made under section 3 of the principal Act to be a special order for purposes of summary trial. The notification is to be issued only if the Central Government is of opinion that in the interests of production, supply or distribution of any essential commodity or trade or commerce therein and other relevant considerations, it is necessary that a contravention of any order made under section 3 of the principal Act in relation to such essential commodity should be tried summarily. It is not possible to specify the orders, the contravention of which should be tried summarily, in the Act itself. It will depend upon the circumstances of each case. It has, however, been laid down in sub-section (1) of section 12A that every notification issued under that sub-section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament. The delegation of legislative power conferred on the Central Government under sub-section (1) of section 12A is of a normal character.
